

3000IS Series Exit Device

Series 3000IS Exit Device

Integrate communication into your entrances. Customize your door hardware with decorative, informational, or promotional images. With the new Series 3000IS exit devices you'll be taking advantage of points of high visibility to reinforce your marketing message or to enhance the surrounding decor.

- Easily identify openings or the user's location in your facility
- Announce to customers your hours of operation
- Express your gratitude for their business
- Direct them to another sales opportunity

Your message will be clearly displayed on high quality graphic inserts made from durable, easily maintained material fitted into the anodized aluminum push bar.

Contact us for display sizes and requirements.

An extension of the ANSI Grade I, UL Listed Series 3000IS is made with the same durable materials to provide years of trouble free operation. These devices are available in both concealed vertical rod and rim latching models and with a wide variety of accessories including removable mullions and alarm kits.
